The Board of Directors of Shakya battery recommended the creation of a new marketing department taking into account the increasing sales of battery all over the country. The Board was looking for a person who was capable of leading the department, instead of hiring from outside, the Board decided to make an internal promotion from among the qualified senior employees who could take over the responsibility and were capable of leading the department. After scrutinizing the profile of different possible candidates, the director put forward two main choices in the Board: Ram and Shyam. Mr. Ram is recognized as an employee having a good track record of working in the company for 5 years. He is a person with a great drive and initiative in all of his endeavors. From the beginning of his career in Shakya battery, he has worked aggressively and received the nick name of "go getter" in the department where he has worked. He is more concerned with ends rather than means. Many other people who have worked with recognized him as a good leader who is always concerned with the result and actions. He always keeps performance records of his subordinates and acknowledges immediately who works with the best effort and commitment. Upon good performance, he decides immediately to reward his subordinates. In fact, he is a quick decision maker who takes full responsibility for his decisions and actions in the company. The next person behind Mr. Ram in the race is Mr. Shyam who has been working in the company for 10 years. He is an open minded person. There is respect for him in the department where he is working. In terms of performance, he is rated first by the top management and by his subordinates. However, he is different from Mr. Ram. He is not aggressive and quick in comparison to Mr. Ram. While making any decision he prefers to consult with his seniors and juniors and keeps them informed on what he really wants to achieve. He looks for co operations and shares ideas on how to use resources appropriately. Unlike Mr. Ram, he is more concerned with means. He emphasizes the workers participation in order to raise individual contribution at work. When he was the head of employees in the past, production had increased.
