

Bachelor in Computer Applications

Course Title: Technical Writing

Code No: Semester: 5

Full Marks: 60 Pass Marks: 24 Time: 3 hours

Candidates are required to answer the questions in their own words as far as practicable.

Note: Group A (Multiple Choice Questions) is not available from the source. The paper begins with Group B.

Group B

1. You are now studying IT in a reputed college in a city in Nepal. The college has a well-equipped computer lab. You remember the school where you completed your secondary-level education. The schools have only a couple of desktop computers. You want to donate about a dozen computers to the school by raising funds. Write a letter to the Chief District Officer requesting him/her to permit you to collect donations.
2. How important is writing process? Briefly discuss the stages of writing process.
3. Prepare a work plan for an analytical report that will assess the promotional opportunities at SXSW and make a recommendation on exhibiting. Include the statement of purpose, a problem statement for any research you will conduct, a description of what will result from your investigation, the sources and methods of data collection, and a preliminary outline based on the information given below: South by Southwest (SXSW) is a family of conferences and festivals in Kathmandu, Nepal that showcase some of the world's most creative talents in music, interactive media, and film. In addition to being a major entertainment venue for a week every March, SXSW is also an increasingly important trade show, an opportunity for companies to present products and services to potential customers and business partners. You work for a company that makes music training equipment, summer as an electronic keyboard with an integrated computer screen that guides learners through every step of learning to play the keyboard. Your manager has asked you to look into whether the company should rent an exhibition booth at SXSW next year.
4. Point out the differences between technical writing and personal writing types with examples.
5. You are the managing director of Sworgadwari Books, Kathmandu. Write an email to Oxford Books, India[(#)] requesting him to send one hundred sets of Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary.
6. What is the worst possible thing that could happen to you during an oral presentation? What strategies might you use to reduce this fear?
7. What steps might you take to avoid misunderstanding created by perceptual bias such as stereotyping?
8. Write instructions for "Replacing the Fuel Filter."
9. Write a short oral presentation on the impacts of reliance on Artificial Intelligence in today's world.
10. How is plagiarism an offence? Discuss the ways of avoiding plagiarism.

11. Tick the correct answer from the options:
a. The herd started to fight among, i. itself ii. themselves iii. herself iv. himself
b. Sorry, I won't come today. I have an important meeting. The underlined word is..... i. quantitative ii. demonstrative iii. interrogative iv. qualitative
c. Please come near. The word 'near' is used as i. a noun ii. an adverb iii. a pronoun iv. a preposition
d. Mr. Shrestha is an adventurer. He to the top of all high mountains of the world. i. was ii. be iii. has been iv. have been
e. 'He was absent twice in one week.' How many nouns are used in this sentence? i. 1 ii. 2 iii. 3 iv. 4

12. Write short notes on:
a. Ethics in Technical Writing
b. Uses of Graphics