
Tribhuvan University
Faculty of Science and Technology
OFFICE OF THE DEAN

2081

Bachelor of Science in Computer Science and Information Technology

Course Title: E-Governance

Code No: CSC366 Semester: 6th Semester

Full Marks: 60 Pass Marks: 24 Time: 3 hours

Candidates are required to answer the questions in their own words as far as practicable.

Section A

1. Explain the different models of digital governance, including the broadcasting model, critical flow model, comparative analysis model with practical use cases.
2. Discuss the challenges and strategies involved in ensuring human and technological infrastructure preparedness for E-government. Explain the government-to-citizen-to-government model and discuss its impact on citizen engagement and service delivery.
3. Discuss the five maturity levels of E-governance and explain their characteristics with examples. Explain how data warehousing and data mining helps in E-governance mechanisms.

Section B

Attempt any Eight questions[8×5=40]

4. What are the present global trends in the growth of E-governance? Provide examples.
5. Explain the security management model used in E-government.
6. How can data warehouse and data mining improve healthcare and education services in country.
7. Discuss the E-government initiatives in Nepal and their impact on public.
8. Compare E-governance initiatives in USA and China.
9. What is E-readiness? Discuss its importance in assessing a country's preparedness for E-government implementation.
10. Explain the importance of data system infrastructure in securing and managing digital information in E-government system.
11. Explain the role of cyber law in supporting E-governance implementation.
12. Write shorts notes on (any two):a. Digital divideb. Human resource management softwarec. Bhoomi